

Artist in Residence Program

Badlands National Park
South Dakota

About the Program

Badlands National Park is pleased to provide you with this information on our Artist in Residence Program. Professional artists will have the opportunity to become part of a well established tradition of artists in parks.

Artists have long had an impact on our perceptions of national parks. In the American West, painters and photographers documented spectacular landscapes for audiences who had never seen such sights. Dramatic photographs, paintings, and descriptive essays helped to stimulate the establishment of many national park areas and continue to foster an appreciation of them today.

Artists ranging from painters to musicians to poets continue to interpret the living landscape through motion and emotion using contemporary approaches and techniques. Our program's goal is to provide an avenue for artists to translate preservation of this place into images that evoke responses in those who may never visit Badlands National Park.

Benefits to the Artist

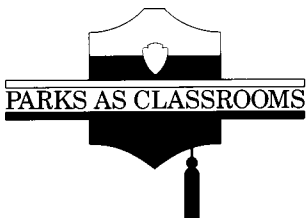

The Artist in Residence program at Badlands National Park was founded in 1996 and is open to all professional artists. Writers, composers and all visual and performing artists are invited to interpret this wind-swept environment through their work. The program provides time for artists to get away from everyday responsibilities to focus on their surroundings and art.

The park offers an apartment located in small housing complex at park headquarters at no cost to the artist. The residency lasts for a minimum of four weeks and a maximum of six weeks. Additionally, the park provides a reimbursement for expenses not to exceed $300. Reimbursible expenses include supplies for school programs, travel, or meals. All expenses incurred above $300 are the responsibility of the artist. Several artists have been successful in seeking donations of supplies and materials from businesses or museums in their home communities prior to coming to Badlands for their residency.

Residencies are available only between March 15 and May 15 or September 1 through October 31 of each year due to lack of housing availability during the summer months.

The park provides one day of orientation to the park and will make a government vehicle available to artists to travel to school programs. All other transportation is the responsibility of the artist. The park provides bicycles for artists' use. All artists in residence are enrolled in the park's Volunteers In the Parks program and are covered under Worker's Compensation for any injuries incurred under the scope of their residency.

Benefits to the Park

Each artist is asked to contribute to the park a mutually agreed upon piece of original work representative of their stay in Badlands National Park within one year of completion of their residency.

Because of Badlands' strong commitment to education and outreach into our rural school districts, all artists are required to present two sessions in a local school to introduce students to an aspect of art and its interpretation of their Badlands home.

When and How to Apply

Deadline for Fall Residency (Available between September 1 and October 31): July 15

Deadline for Spring Residency (Available between March 15 and May 15): December 31

All applicants must submit:

- A resume and summary of creative works.
- A statement of what they hope to gain from a residency at Badlands National Park and what they hope to incorporate into their classroom presentations.
- Up to three choices of beginning and ending dates for their residency. Residencies are a minimum of four weeks, a maximum of six weeks, and must fall within the availability dates.

Visual artists: Submit at least six 35 mm slides in standard mounts. Include a typed list of slides with title, medium, and image size (height and width). Mark slides with your name and a number corresponding to your list. Indicate the top of each slide with the letter "T." Slides should show only the actual work - backgrounds, mats, or frames should not be included.

Writers: Submit no more than ten double-spaced, typewritten pages of manuscript.

Performing Artists: Submit audio and videotapes must be indexed to indentify five minute segment for jury review.

Application packets must be mailed to:
Artist in Residence Program
Badlands National Park
P.O. Box 6
Interior, South Dakota 57750

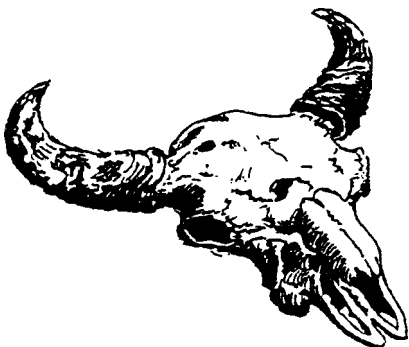

The Selection Process

A panel will be convened in early January and late July each year to review submissions and select resident artists. Selections will be based on artistic integrity, ability to reside in a remote, rural area, willingness to donate a finished piece of work inspired during the stay, and the artist's ability to relate to school age children through their work.

We will consider all forms of arts except those that manipulate or disturb the park's environment or are disrespectful to any race or gender.

Selections are made without regard to race, religion, marital status, sex, age, or national origin. The facilities for this program are not wheelchair accessible.

Other Pertinent Points

Housing will be either an efficiency apartment or a one bedroom apartment (depending on availability) that is fully furnished with heat and air conditioning. Basic cooking equipment is also provided, as well as access to the park library and computers, which operate on a Windows environment. Artists need to bring bedding, personal gear, food, and art supplies. Because of our weather extremes, artists should be prepared for blizzards, heat above 100 degrees Farenheit, high winds, and varied terrain when hiking or biking.

Badlands National Park was established as a National Monument in 1939 to protect dramatic scenery created through geologic processes and some of the world's most extensive mammal fossil beds. Today, the park also educates on the mixed grass prairie ecosystem and a rich human history extending back over 11,000 years. The park is considered remote, located 65 miles from the closest full service community (Rapid City, South Dakota). Smaller communities are within 30 miles of park headquarters.